Acknowledgement

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to all individuals who generously contributed their valuable insights and information during the interviews, focus group discussions, and surveys conducted as part of our Knowledge, Attitudes, Beliefs, and Practices (KABP) study. The enumerators and other dedicated members of our research team played pivotal roles in successfully executing the various field activities, and we extend our heartfelt thanks to each one of them.

Our appreciation also extends to UNICEF Bangladesh and SUS for granting us the privilege to conduct this study. In particular, we would like to extend our special thanks to the following UNICEF and SUS officials who closely engaged with us throughout the research process, offering invaluable comments, suggestions, and unwavering support: Umme Halima, Social and Behaviour Change Officer at UNICEF Bangladesh; Begum Rokeya, Executive Director; Showpoun Kumar Paul, Director; Sanjoy Sarkar, Project Coordinator; the SBC Project Coordinator; the M&E Officer; and the Upazila Coordinator of the SBC Project at SUS.

It is important to note that the individuals and organizations mentioned above bear no responsibility for any shortcomings identified in our study or this report.

We extend our best wishes to SUS in its future endeavors, working with stakeholders such as children, adolescents, and marginalized communities in the north-eastern part of Bangladesh. We hope that SUS will continue to empower these communities, enabling them to enhance their capabilities, lead dignified lives, and actively participate in society.
